Research Notes:

See the Estate Administration Event for Mary Strong for the probate document that proves Martha was a daughter of John Strong. She was probably the female age 10-16 in the 1820 census, indicating a date of birth between 1804 and 1810, probably towards the end of that range.

Although one can't be sure, it appears as if the names for Samuel and Martha's children may have been taken from Martha's family. If so, that would indicate the first Mrs. John Strong may have been named Elizabeth. Recall that I have speculated the first Mrs. John Strong File.
